Symposium on Quantitative Semantics

25 November 2011
Lund University, Department of Psychology

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM
Semantic content or words and sentences is intuitive understood, however, methods for quantifying semantic has been less developed. This symposium welcomes academic and professional with an interest in quantifying semantic content, which may be used as in several domains where the outcome measure are verbal statements.

Registrations and abstracts are submitted to Sverker Sikström (sverker.sikstrom@psychology.lu.se)

Each presenter is given 15 minutes plus 5 minutes for questions.
Abstract should be no longer than 150 words.
Registration and submission deadline: 11 November 2011
The symposium is free of charge. Lunch will be served.